

Traxon Premium Tracking

Improve supply chain quality and completeness

Traxon Premium Tracking is a fully-automated service that enables you to track any AWB number, regardless if you are the originator of the FWB.

Benefits

- Check Air Waybills (AWB) even when you're not the originator of the FWB
- Minimize mishandled and wrongly directed shipments
- Track shipments with more than 85+ airlines
- Enjoy extreme accuracy with fully automated communication
- See latest events without shifting through data
- Cost-efficient and unlocks numerous key competitive benefits

In today's fast paced and digitized society, we are surrounded by the constant flow of data and information. That can make it all the more frustrating when faced with gaps and breakdowns in the supply chain.

Visibility and transparency are key to making informed decisions, responding in real-time, and providing your customers with a high-quality experience. That's why Traxon Premium Tracking is the ideal service for forwarders, shippers, or anyone wanting to track an Air Waybill (AWB).

Traxon Premium Tracking is an easy-to-use platform that enables you to see the status of shipments, supplies accurate information on shipment locations, and allows you to track the status of multiple AWBs from multiple carriers – even when you are not the FWB originator.

By leveraging Traxon Premium Tracking, you can avoid needing to develop a complicated, time and manpower consuming trace routine and track the status of any shipment in a single, cost-effective tool.

- All events on record (last 30 days) are delivered as new trace job is created
- Simple and automated communication via API
- New alerts of key events as and when they occur
- Easy-to-use and intuitive interface
- Select the specific events you would like to have and the event that for you will close the lifecycle
- Scalable solution that allows you to access multiple airlines in one source

Leverage Traxon Premium Tracking to stay ahead of the curve

Having access to real-time information and continuous updates on the location of a shipment is a crucial competitive advantage in today's 24/7 economy. By utilizing Traxon Premium Tracking, you can know where a shipment is at any given time and allocate resources accordingly to this streamlined and efficient operations.

This unlocks numerous cost efficiencies, greater agility and responsiveness, and allows you to add value for your customers – all made possible with Traxon Premium Tracking.

Experience a fully transparent and visible supply chain with Traxon Premium Tracking and enjoy smarter shipment tracking today.
